Amateur glayer learned that the public is entitled to a run for its money, that some obligation is attached to a winner of any championship, that money is wagered on the results of the games, and that every team should play its hardest. The Twining team cannot be blamed as a whole for the deplorable incident of yesterday, but those players who absented themselves when they were most inceded should hie away to some dark place and live out the remainder of their existence. They should be ashaimed to dook their fellow-players in the face.

It is hoped that the team, as a whole, will take suitable steps to punish the guilty parties and re-establish the club's standing in the eyes of the sporting public.

Two of Twining's best players have been missing from the post-season games. Hower has been in the hospital with a crippled leg, and Watson, until Wednesday, has been out of the city.

From the good showing of "Zip" Clements yesterday, it would be wise for him to try pitching next season. He is also a fast fielder and a good batter.

The five players who put Twining to the bad yesterday by not showing up to play against the Bankers were Burke, Engle, Hiser Brady, and McKee.

"Sid" Lodge, who will join the Richmond team in the Virginia State League early next spring, began catching for junior teams in Montgomery County in 1896, when he was but nine years of age. He first came into public notice when he played the outfield for the Washington Grove team in 1903. In 1904 he caught for that club. He did the backstopping for the Fort Union Military Academy in 1905 and 1906, where he was battery mate to Harry Griffin, Lynchburg's famous twirler. During the seasons of 1907, 1908, and 1909 Lodge caught for Richmond College and was made captain of the 1909 team. He was a member of the Clifton Springs (N. Y.) semi-professional team during the summer of 1908. He led the Richmond College in batting and fielding for three years. He was made manager of the Washington Grove nine in the summer of 1907, and that year the Grove club won the championship of Montgomery County. He caught for the Congressionals, in the Independence League, in 1907, and besides has been a member of the Gaithersburg nine for several years. He has played also with Kensington and Garrett Park.

This season he attracted much attention in the Suburban League, where he caught for Silver Spring, batting 355 and fielding .962. With the Gaithersburg team

Washington will make a hard try to and the pennant in the present series, inasmuch as the games will be played on the home lot. The first tournament was held in New York, and the second in Chicago. Washington has the third, and EVENTS ARE WELL FILLED the chance to play the games here will not come around again for ten years or

It is pointed out that the Columbia Printers stand well in the class in which they will compete, and that the printers' teams from the various cities are very evenly balanced, therefore good games should result.

American League Park has been obtained for the games, which will be played on September 12 to 17.
